

Fall 2026

BK21-KOICA GLOCOM Project

Call for Project Teams

What is the GLOCOM Project?

- A joint research project between BK21 and KOICA students
- Studying GLOcal CONflict Management issues in KOICA students' home countries and exploring implications for diverse regional contexts, incl. Korea if applicable
- Feedback from KOICA students on the research

Application Details

- Open to BK21 participants (team applications only, up to 3 students)
- Submit the application form to the BK21 email (gsisbk21@korea.ac.kr)
- Deadline: Friday, November 13, 2026
- Notification of results: Friday, November 20, 2026

Benefits for Participants

- Research grant (₩200,000 per participant; not per team)
- Certificate of completion
- Opportunity to present at the BK21 Student Colloquium

Research Topics (*Choose one)

[Option 1: Vietnam]

Between Export Growth and Trade Rebalancing:

Vietnam's Response to U.S. Concerns over the Bilateral Trade Surplus

[Option 2: Liberia]

Foreign Aid Dependency and Domestic Revenue Mobilization in Post-Conflict Liberia:
Implications for Fiscal Self-Reliance

[Option 3: Peru]

The Price of Development? The Rising Influence of China in Peru's Economy, and its Impact on the Country's Critical Mineral Sovereignty

※ For more information, including the research topic description and the application form, please visit our website (gsisbk21.korea.ac.kr).

KOREA UNIVERSITY
GSIS BK21 Program of Global Studies